Chicken Coops

Chicken Coops are becoming quite popular. Our Chicken Coops are a easy and efficient shelter for your chicken. Easy accessibility to remove fresh eggs and a large side door for easy clean up.

Chicken Coops do not require site preparation. Only a level area is required for the doors, latches, and windows to function properly.

Site Preparation

Why is site preparation important to you?

- To ensure that your shed will last for years to come
- To assure that your door and windows will function properly
- To maintain your limited warranty

Typical Site Preparations

It's very popular to prepare a shed site with 3/4" crushed stone. In order to inhibit weeds and deter moisture, we recommend that the perimeter extend 12" beyond your structure perimeter. This will prevent roof runoff from splashing dirt back up on the siding causing discolouration. Stone pads are build to protect the structure it supports by providing excellent drainage, firm support, and a level surface.

Your structure may also be set on a concrete pad. When installing your pad, start with a 4" crushed stone pad extending 12" beyond your concrete pad. Keep your concrete pad the same size as your structure and approximately 4" thick. Please ask your dealer for the exact outside measurements of your new structure before beginning your preparation. Having a site prep will help you enjoy your structure for years to come!

Features and Options

Our vinyl structures come with a 5" overhang which prevents water/rain from running down the sides and causing premature decay and ugly stains. Overhangs help your building look great for no additional charge. Dura-temp and Board & Batten buildings come with a 3" overhang. Wood trim covered by aluminum keeps your wood from rotting and is maintenance free. The aluminum comes in a wide variety of colours and offers a clean nail-free look.
